RALEIGH. N. C., FRIDAY EVENING. AUGUST 29, 1873.

NO. 162.

THE NORTH CAROLINA SINGERS. we mentioned the fact that Rev. H. M. State press speaking so favo: ably of the Tupper, A. M., Principal of the Shaw Collegiate Institute in this city, had organized a grand chorus of fifteen colored vocalists from among his pupils, and started on a Northern tour for the purpose of raising funds to complete the buildings of the institution and to carry on its operations. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Tupper is meeting with success, and copy with pleasure from the Burlington (Vt.) Daily Free Press and Times, of the 16th inst., a notice of one of the enterts inments given in that city by this band of North Carolina vocalists: The Jubilee Singers from North Carolina gave a fine concert to a large audience at Union Hall last evening. The colored young men and women, thirteen in number, acquitted themselves with great credit, and their hearers were highly delighted with the entertainment. Their programme was quite similar to that of the colored singers from the Fisk University of Tennessee, who sung here a year ago. In some respects we consider this a much more musically talented company. They sing in better harmony and show considerable action in their quaint rendering of the camp meeting and planta-tion songs. One of the boys of the troupe has a surprisingly excellent alto voice. Those pieces which were the most loudly applauded by the audience were, "The General Roll Call," "Did you ever see such a Man," the soulstirring soldier song of "Hark, the Boys are Coming," "Behold the Lights,"

"Pick up de Young Lambs," the Union refrain of "Winter will Soon be Over," the amusing "Jonah" song "Didn't my Lord deliver Daniel," "One more River to Cross," and "Glory in Thy Soul," the last two being enthusiastically encored. The concert closed with the "Old Cabin Home," very sweetly sung. During the intermission between the parts, Rev. H. M. Tupper, tute at Raleigh, who has the troupe in charge, and wholis highly recommend-principal of the Shaw Collegiate Instied by Gov. Caldwell, made some interesting remarks concerning the education of both white and colored children in North Carolina. He told the story of the foundation of the Institute, how one of Vermont's honored citizens. Hon. Jacob Esty, of Battleboro, had given $5,000 towards a building for the female department, said that he was now able to keep twenty men at work from the proceeds of these concerts thus far, and mentioned the fact that a gentleman of this city contributed the means to enable a student now in the Institute to prosecute his studies, so as to fit himself for a missionary to Africa. We are pleased to announce that the singers have consented to repeat their concert in this city on Wednesday even ing next, when we expect to see the City Hall filled with our citizens to enoy the entertainment which the singers offer, as well as help on the excellent institution for which they are laboring."

As all the members of this band belong to Raleigh, it may be a matter of interest to our readers to know their names and the parts they sustain, so we give them : Hannah York, Martha Williams, Mary A. Nixon and Edward Lipscomb, Soprano; Emily B. York, Mary A. Lothrop, Julia Hardy and Thomas Custis, Alto; G. W. Davis and Osburne Hunter, Jr., Tenor; Henry Roan, Ezekiel Smith and W. C. Branch, Bass : G. B. Outlaw and Augustus Shepherd, Baritone. Willie M. Sage is the Musical Director and W. S. Phillips Business Agent.

OTHER STATES COMING TO OUR ASSIS TANCE .- In addition to the large numper of things that are being placed, by parties in this State, at the disposal of the Committee who have charge of the getting up of the grand gift concert that is to be held at the approaching State Fair, the Committee is daily in receipt of letters from other States tendering donations to the general gift fund that is to be made. A gentleman from Ohio donates a number of genuine Cotswold sheep; Connecticut will send a number of Brahma chickens; New York a pair of Aldany calves and 500 pots of flowers; breach-loading guns will come from Massachusetts; cooking stoves from Pennsylvania, grape vines and fancy soaps from New Jersey, and fruit trees from Delaware. The Committee has been in correspondence with hundreds of gentlemen, and expect to make the number of gifts very large. All of the articles thus donated to the Society will be placed upon exhibition.

SALES STABLES-GROCERY AND LI-QUOB HOUSE. - We invite especial attention to the card in another column of Messrs. Rogers & Harris, who have opened the stable on Martin street recently occupied by the Messrs. Dunn, with a view of keeping a boarding and sale stable. They will be entirely un-der the control of Mr. Will T. Rogers, the Kentucky mule man. They also have a grocery and liquor store on Wilmington street, a few doors north of the Market House, where the genuine Bourbon whiskey and brandy can be obtained.

HURDLE RACING .- Thos. Emry, Esq., the energetic Superintendent of the Weldon Fair, has just returned from Saratoga and Long Branch, and assures us that he has secured several capital horses to visit the Weldon Fair this fall, and that some of them have been trained to hurdle racing, which latter sport will doubtless be introduced at Weldon during the Fair. It is probable that these same horses may be induced to visit Raleigh at the State Fair. The hurdle racing is quite the sport at the Northern race tracks this season.

OFFICIAL RETURNS .- Official returns of the recent election on the Constitutional Amendments have been received from all the counties of the State except the following; Ashe, Bladen, Buncombe Camden, Cabarrus, Martin, Mitchell, Polk, Wake be educated.

THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER AND THE In the Daily News some weeks ago STATE FAIR.—We are pleased to see the approaching State Fair, and the efforts that are being made by those who have the matter in charge, to make it a grand success. Says the Charlotte Observer of Wednesday:

"The coming North Carolina State Fair this fall promises to be the greatest ever held in this State. Smart, energetic men are at the head of it, and they are determined that it shall be a success. We hope it will, as fairs, generally, of late years have proved lamentable failures, from one cause and another. A successful fair is one of the things that we read of; but rarely witness in our day and generation.

"The State Fair for 1873, is being gotten up on a most extens:ve scale. Ample grounds with capacious buildings, and good race track, are being prepared for the occasion. The grounds are located about a mile west of Raleigh on the Chapel Hill road, and quite near the Central Railroad, with which it is to be connected by a short extension of railway. The location is a good one, with the exception that the front entrance to the grounds is situated on the top of a high, red hill, which will be muddy in wet, and dusty in dry weather. Adjoining the Fair Grounds is a tract of wooded, hilly land that will, in all probability, at some future day be converted into a park for the city.

"Ten thousand dollars in premiums are offered—double that of any previous fair. The list is a complete one, and possesses some new and attractive features. The horse racing will be given more than its usual prominence—three thousand dollars being offered in premiums in this department alone. Great inducements are held out to native com-

"The Managers of the Fair are particular fortunate in the selection of an orator to deliver the Annual Address. Their choice fell upon Hon. D. W. Voornees, of Indiana. Mr. Voorhees is one of the most brilliant orators of the present age. He has a national reputation for his splendid powers as a public speaker. He, perhaps more than any other member of Congress, has endeared himself to the Southern people by his bold and manly course in detence of our rights. More than once he has in the halls of Congress, with thrilling eloquence, portrayed the evils that have followed reconstruction, and nobly plead for our rights.

"Not by any means the least of the many attractions of the occasion, will be the Grand Gift Concert, to be given in one of the halls on the Fair Grounds, on the 17th of October. The object of he concert is to raise for the

"We hope to see this Fair well patronized. The State Fair is something which appeals to the State pride of all of us. That it will be the best ever held in Raieigh, we do not for a moment doubt.

Educational—Facts and Figures to be Considered by the People of Raleigh,

The report of the Treasurer of Wake county to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the school year ending September 30th, 1872, shows, that the school fund of Wake county for that year was $7,478.71, besides the State and county poll taxes for 1871 which have not yet been paid. Of this school fund $5,667.75 was disbursed by the County Treasurer in payment of school expenses in Wake county during that school year. Of this amount $135 was paid for while schools in Raleigh Township, and $360 for colored schools and and $709.53 for building a school house.

Raleigh Township contains nearly one-third of all the children in the county, and is therefore entitled to to nearly one-third of the school fund of Wake county. The school fund of Wake county for the scholastic year, beginning July 1st, 1873, will be made up of the following items, to-wit: Seventy-five per cent. of the entire State and county capitation taxes for the year 1871. Seventy-five per cent. of the entire State and county capitation taxes for the year 1872. Six and two thirds cents on the hundred dollars valuation of all the property and credits in Wake county. Seventy-five per cent. of the entire State and county capitation taxes for 1873. Eight and one-third cents on the hundred dollars valuation of property and credit in Wake county for 1873.

Apportionment of the State school fund to be paid by the State Treasurer to the County Treasurer, January 1st, 1874. This fund January 1st, 1878, was $2,262. It is not known now what it will be January 1st, 1874, and is altogether omitted in the estimate which we now make. I find from the Auditor's report 1872. that 3,511 polls were reported from Wake county; and that the value of all the taxable property in Wake county was $5,769,387. The assessment of the present year will, I understand, add at east ten per cent, to this valuation.

Adopting this return and valuation and counting seventy-five per cent. of the State and county capitation tax at one dollar and a half for each poll, we find:

school poll tax for 1871, property tax for 1872, poll "1873, property " "

Wake county school fund for 1873, For Raleigh Township, $24,933 44 $8,311 44

In this estimate I have not included the apportionment from the State Treasurer which last January was $2,262, nor made, on the other hand, any allowance for insolvence. But making all due allowances these figures show that the estimate made and published in the papers Wednesday that the school funding of Raleigh township is more than three thousand dollars is not an extravagant estimate. They also show that the school fund is much too large to be wasted or neglected. This fund may be supplemented by other funds, and by subscriptions and contributions by the for insolvence. But making all due allowances these figures show that the subscriptions and contributions by the people, and schools may be established in which the children of Raleigh may

The people of each race should establish a well regulated public school for their own children. This, I understand, is the object of the meetings in Metropolitan Hall, on the evenings of the 1st and 3rd of September. At each of these meetings three or five Commissioners or Trustees will be appointed to take charge of the school, secure a house or houses, and employ teachers. ALEXANDER McIVER, Supt. Public Instructions.

FOOTE'S DUELS WITH PRENTISS. his reminiscences contributed to the Washington Chronicle, Hon. Henry S. Foote speaks as follows of his duels with Sergent S. Prentiss:

'In the winter of 1832-'33 I had a personal dispute at the Bar with the famous S. S. Prentiss during the trial of a capital case of much importance. His language, through sufficiently retaliated by me at the time, induced me to send him a challenge, which I ought never to have thought of deing. He promptly accepted, proved a far better shot than myself, and wounded me very painfully in the left shoulder. We adjusted our dispute before we left the ground. An indiscreet friend or two of his spoke disparagingly of my conduct on the occasion. I was highly exasperated, and wrote him a note demanding whether he had given his sanction to this act of injustice. He at once denied doing so. I published the cor-respondence. He placed such an interpertation upon my letter to him as gave offense. He proposed reopening the fight, which we did on exceedingly desperate terms. He shot me down, giving me an exceedingly dangerous wound. In three months we were good friends, and lived in the greatest amity and harmony up to the time of his death, which happened in 1848."

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29 .- A man named Irving, in jail here, confesses to complicity in the murder of Mr. Nathan in New York. He thinks the name of his confederate was McNally. The house-keeper's son got them to do the murder at the suggestion of Washington Nathan. The basement door was left open, and Irving and his companion remained in the dark some time, when the man came down who said, "I have finished the old man." They then went up stairs. Irving says he has in his house, in New York, some stocks and a memorandum book partially written in Hebrew, which he took from the old man. We only got between six and seven thousand dollars. Irving gives graphic details. The committee of surgeons could not determine his sanity. He came here as a sailor on a British ship.

CHANDLER. Chandler, one of the Radical speak ers at the recent discussion at Warren ton, Va., went out of his way to assail Gen. D. H. Hill, of this State.

According to a correspondent of the Petersburg Index and Appeal, Chandler denounced Gen. Hill as a rascal for imprisoning him during the war, when some one in the crowd denounced Chandler with an oath as a liar.

A correspondent of the Richmond Whig gives the following account of Chandler's speech on Gen. Hill:

"Then he (Chandler) waxed warmer, remarking, that an Universalist chaplain during the war said, 'if there is not a Hell, there ought to be one as a military necessity,' and one was needed, the speaker thought, to punish that rascally General, D. H. Hill, who arrested and maltreated him and a Union general who served him, according to inference, not less mercifully. A voice near your correspondent remarked he means Ben.

This same fellow Chandler read from ex-President Davis' speech to show that "disloyal sentiments" were still popular among the Conservatives; and he asked Col. Withers, the Conservative candidate for Lieutenant Governor, if he endorsed Mr. Davis' remarks. Col. Withers promptly replied that he did Chandler, at the commencement of of the war, had a number of warm friends at Norfolk, where he was engaged in the practice of the law. To the great surprise and mortification of a number of his admirers in that city, he but without one particle of judgment in deserted the Southern Confederacy in his hot blood." In America, popular in the hour of its peril and trial. Soon after the commencement of hostilities he applied for and obtained leave of the Confederate authorities to go beyond our lines, which he did under flag of truce, from Norfolk to Fortress Mon roe in 1861.

He remained inside the Union lines until the war was over, when he again turned up in Virginia, in the capacity of United States Solicitor.

Chandler is now canvassing for the Radical ticket, and is confessedly a man of ability and a good speaker. He army. The Post does not hesitate to belongs to the Radical crew that is striving to place Virginia under the held in the late Confederacy. Why yoke of the political vassalage and serf-

In going out of his way to attack Ex-President Davis' speech, and to assail Gen. Hill for arresting him during the war, he is attempting to lug in personal and irrelevant issues. This is very good evidence, however, to prove the desperation of the cause which he attempts to bolster up, and to manifest his own want of fairness and justice.

DISSATISFACTION WITH THE VIENNA AWARDS. A Vienna dispatch informs the rub-lic that great dissatisfaction has been manifested by the recent awards made at the great exhibition.

Thirty thousand medals is all were awarded. Of these America received four hundred.

Grave complaints have been made against some of the successful exhibitors as well as against the awarding commissioners. It is said that the former offered bribes the prizes, which the latter pocketed unceremoniously. It is even charged that many articles which received premiums were never on exhibition at all. and that a number of enterprising American firms whose goods were not even entered received diplomas "through manipulations of the juries." We do not know whether there is any ground for such damaging charges, but of course there is to be an investigation.

The complaints which some of the Americans have made will, it is thought, induce the Imperial Commission to appoint a committee to examine into the cases of alleged injustice which have been furnished the American Commis-

Our country has cut a sorry figure at Vienna. At the commencement, the American Commissioner at large, Gen. Van Buren, was detected in certain disreputable practices, and had to be suspended from his position. Then some of his subordinates were found guilty of disgraceful conduct, and shared the late of their chief officer. Other nations looked on in surprise and mortification at our national degradation and dishonor.

And now at the close of the exhibition, we find Americans squabbling over the medals, charging each other with bribery and fraud, and denouncing the successful competitors for dishonesty and crime! The dispatch says: "It alleged that those who know how the American prizes were secured will attach no value to medals of the Vienna Exposition." Now whether this is the language of disappointed aspirants who were fairly beaten for the premiums, or whether there is any real cause for complaint, of course we can not undertake to decide, in the absence of any evidence; but it is to be deeply deplored that such damaging charges should be made against American exhibitors-for the character of the nation has already been sufficiently tarnished in the eyes of other countries, and this new scandal will only add to our national shame.

WE STREET, ACH.

RICH LAND IN EASTERN CAR-OLINA.

The Editor of the Washington Exoress has been on a visit to the farms lying on South Creek, in Beaufort county, Eastern North Carolina, He says the South Creek section is a vast plain of almost perfectly level land, with a vegetable deposit of eight to twelve inches, immediately underlaid with the stiffest clay, high impregnated with lime: "This clay is from thirty to thirty-six inches, where is found a beautiful blue marl, said to be as rich as the best decomposed stable manure." These lands are of great natural fertility, and produce a bale of cotton or fifty bushels of corn to the acre without manure-in some instances a bale and a half to the acre, or ninety bushels of corn are produced without the use of fertilizers.

According to a North Carolina journal, France is in danger of another "coo preparing for our de Tar," whereupon the Louisville Courier-Journal suggests that, if the report be true, as a token of her appreciation of his warning, France will award to this North Carolina editor the contract for furnishing the necessary tar .-Norfolk Virginian.

The North Carolina paper referred to s, we believe, the Wilmington Star. At any rate, the pun sounds Ciceronian. If the Courier-Journal should fall into the hands of our Wilmington cotemporary, it will most assuredly catch a

The Baltimore Gazette thinks that Castelar, the Spanish Republican, is the first crator of the present day. The same paper pronounces Victor Hugo a crazy visionist, Jules Favre an eloquent orator and nothing more, and "the rash and impetuous Gambetta passionate and capable of outbursts of vivid oratory, oratory has greatly depreciated in the last quarter of a century, and there has been a similar decadence in American statesmanship.

OUR EX-PRESIDENT.

The Wilmington Post does not object to the RALEIGH NEWS calling Ex-President Davis " President." Of course not. Why should it object? President Da vis held his title by the same authority that made Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson Generals in the Confederate give our army officers the titles they should it make any to-do over our calling Mr. Davis Ex President Davis?

A newspaper correspondent mentions that General Early was dancing at the White Sulphur Springs, the other evening with Mrs. Baldwin, of New Orleans, the handsomest lady at the Springs .-

Norfolk Virginian. General Jubal A. E. is an old batchelor of the crustiest sort. It is never too late to do good; and if the old General should conclude to change his mode of CAROLINA MILITARY INSTI life he will be Early still.

The Washington Republican, the President's organ, defends Butler against the charges made by the Hamilton Hall Committee of Republicans, whose address, it was alleged, was written by Hon, E. R. Hoar. The Republican evidently wants Butler to be made Governor of Massachusetts. This, we take it, is evidence that Grant also favors the claims of the Beast.

The Washington Republican thinks Hon, S. S. Cox, of New York, "is as fine a specimen of a first-class trimmer as there is to be found in or out of Congress." Mr. Cox has trimmed the sails of the Radicals so often that the Repubcan has a right to speak knowingly on the subject.

The damaging record of Hughes, the Radical candidate for Governor of Virginia, is being thoroughly ventilated by our Virginia cotemporaries. Hughes was a member of the National Convention that nominated Seymour and Blair.

The Magnolia Monitor has an editorial in favor of encouraging boys to be farmers. That paper shows that ninetenths of the young men who go to the cities to do business " meet with disappointments, reverses and failures."

The Richmond Enquirer thinks that to say in a speech that General D. H. Hill is a rascal is a good way for Chandler to get white votes for his party."

CURIOUS CASE OF REVIVICATION .-There was no little excitement at Westminster, Md., on the 26th, occasioned by the following somewhat singular incident: Wm. A. Matthias, a young man twenty-two years old, who has been engaged for the past six months in selling sewing machines in the city and the immediate vicinity, died, as it was sup posed, about 3 o'clock Sunday evening with brain fever. He was placed on ice, and there remained forty hours. To-day the relatives and friends of the family assembled together for the purpose of paying their last tribute of respect to the dead, when it was noticed his skin had assumed a natural appearance, and on further examination it was found that life was not extinct. He is now in the hands of the physicians, and from last accounts was doing well .-

Mr. R. A. Springs, of Charlotte, has been appointed by Judge Moore Receiver of the A. T. & O. R. R. Says the Observer : "Mr. Springs is a young man of energy and fine business quali fications, and we have no doubt will discharge the duties of the position well and faithfully."

THE MURDER OF MRS SURRATT .- Referring to the recently published letters and affidavits by which Judge Advocate General Holt seeks to prove that President Johnson and not he (Holt) was responsible for the cowardly judicial murder of Mrs. Surratt, the Baltimore Sun forcibly remarks:

There is no sane person we suppose in any part of this country who now believes that Mrs. Surratt was in any way accessory or privy to the horrid assassination perpetrated by Booth and his associates. That her execution was a judicial murder is every day becoming more manifest. Perhaps this almost universal conviction may account for the curious phenomenon that years after the deed has been done, the aged victim disposed of, and the public in general has dismissed the painful subject from its mind, there arise, in the most unexpected manner, discussions among those who figured on that tragical occasion as to their relative share of the responsibility for the action.

ANECDOTE OF GENERAL LEE .- "VI ator," in the Alexandria Gazette, relates the following anecdote of General R. E. Lee :

Upon one occasion a gentleman had incurred General Lee's displeasure, and, after expressing his feelings to a triend in very emphatic terms, the old hero " Now, sir, I will read what I said : have written to this man," and proceeded to read a letter which a man of proper sensibilities would keenly feel, but which the gentleman knew would be utterly lost on the one for whom it was intended. Accordingly he said : "Why General, he will not appreciate that. He will take it as rather an approval of his course." With a very perplexed look General Lee replied: "Well, I am sorry, but I really cannot belp it. If a gentleman cannot understand the language of a gentleman he must re main in ignorance, for a gentleman cannot speak any other way.

The Lynchburg Vinginian says it is supposed a murder was committed a Flat Creek Church, in Campbell county, last Friday. A lady who was passing heard cries of ' Don't kill me! What have I done?' and looking in the window she saw two negroes have a man down beating, striking or stabbing him. She hurried off for assistance, but when Raleigh can talk of cotton factories, the first man reached the church no one was there. On the floor of the church he found a large pool of blood, and bloody tracks leading to the gallery. These he followed up to a window on the gallery which was badly shattered and broken, giving evidence of a terrible struggle. No further traces of the injured party could be found, and whether he finally made his escape from his assailants or was murdered and his body secreted, is not known.

THE CROPS INJURED BY RAIN .-Persons from the adjoining counties represent that the recent excessive rains have injured the corn crop considerably by producing numerous "shoots" and causing the ears of corn to grow out that which was planted has been badly beyond the end of the shuck which,

g it to rot. The stacks of oats are also considerably damaged in some localities, causing the seed to sprout .- Lynchburg Republican, 27th

ors to CAROLINA PUMP COMPANY, LOCATED IN RALEIGH,)

Located in Kaleigh,)

Are prepared to furnish at short notice the Kitchen Pumps of various sizes with Porcelain Cylinders which can't injure the water. This is a submerged deep well pump, now in use 2½ years without the expense of new pecking. We make all sizes, capacity 3½ to 150 gallons water per minute, working in every conceivable way and by the use of hose which can be attached in half a minute, these pumps at once become a hand ent ine of great power, throwing water on the roof of three story buildings, with one hand, and they will stand four io six men safely. We have not beard of one of them being overcome by fire, and yet they have been tested by over fifty fires, saving over 550,000 worth of property. For ordinary use children work them easily if set up by our printed directions, and if so set we warrant them 12 months. Our Double Suction and Force Globe Pumps, also invented by J. L. Kitchen is capable of being used as a Drive well pump and is well adapted to steamers and vessels of any class; one man can throw water on the roof of 3 story buildings. But it has a double ended lever and with four men is a very superior hand engine. The No. 2 Globe Pump is 12 inches in Diameter with 1½ suction and 1¼ discharge pipe and throws 40 to 100 gallons per minute, according to speed. The No. 3 Globe, 7 inches in diameter, I inch suction and ¾ of an inch of discharge pipe, capable of 25 to 30 gallons per minute. These Globe Pumps we make of cast iron for common use, brass for salt water and block tin for the inside of houses for drinking water, they lift the water 25 feet perpendicular, and you can sit It in the house and draw water from aprings or wells at great distances.

All kinds of steam and water pipes fit ted at short notice; hose, hose-pipe and couplings furnished here, &c.

Send for price list. The entire depth of wells with good references must accompany all orders.

MR. J. L. KITCHEN—The pump you put in my well which is thirty-two feet deep, I have, been using nearly two years; it has proven entirely satisfactory, and by attaching a hose which I got of you it becomes a local fire engine of invaluable service. For ordinary domestic purposes, the pump can be used by small children.

Dear Sir—I have had one of your Force Pumps in use for two years, and it has proved in every respect as you represented
It and I would not be without it for twice t and I would he cost of it.
Yours respectfully,
R. A. WATSON.

GREENVILLE, April 19, 1872.

MR. J. L. KITCHEN—

Sir—I have been using one of your pumps driven from my steam engine, for supplying my tanks. I have used it continually for two years, and can confidently recommend it for any purpose where water is required. The pump is so constructed that it will last without getting out of order for years, and I have heard no complaint from any of your many pumps used in this locality for yard well pumps.

WM. S. BROADDUS. GREENVILLE, April 19, 1872.

John C. Gorman and W. C. Stronach, of Raleigh, give certificates stating that they have had the pump in use one and two years, are perfectly satisfied with it, and it has not cost them one cent for repairs.

Messrs. Wilson and Waddell, at Wilson's Mills, on the North Carolina Railroad, write that the No. 2 Globe Pump, with 150 feet of 1½ inch hose, purchased from the Messrs. Kitchen to protect their mills and sash and blind factory against fire, is the best pump they have ever seen. They will buy another as soon as it can be made, for another well. Several parties have examined their pump and will buy others like them. DOWN! DOWN!! DOWN!!!

[Colonel Christie, of North Carolina, was wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, and died before his wife could reach him. His last words were, "Kiss me for my Lizzie."]

I am dying, is she coming?
Throw the window open wide,
Is she coming? oh! I love her
More than all the world beside,
In her young and tender beauty, Must, oh must she feel this loss? Saviour, hear my poor petition, Teach me how to bear this cross.

All the evening dews are falling, I am cold, the light is gone, Is she coming? softly, softly, Comes death's silent footsteps on; I am going, come and kiss me; Kiss me for my darling wife— Take for her my parting blessing Take the last warm kiss of life.

Surely ere the daylight dieth,
I will fold her to my breast—
With her head upon my bosom,
Calmly I could sink to rest,
It is hard to die without her,
Look! I think she's coming now,
I can almost feel her kinger I can almost feel her kisses On my faded cheek and brow.

I can almost hear her whisper—
Feel her breath upon my cheek—
Hark! I hear the front door open,
Is she coming, did she speak?
No; well, draw the curtain softly—
I will see her face no more
Till I see it smiling on me
On that bright and better shore.

Tell her she must come and meet me In that Eden land of light— Tell her I'll be waiting for her, Where there is no death—no night, Tell her that I called her darling—

Blessed her with my dying breath, Come and kiss me for my Lizzie, Tell her love outliveth death.

The Story of David and Goliath. While on the Union Grove camp ground yesterday, and present as a spectator at the children's meeting, an amusing incident came under our observation. An eloquent divine-whom we will designate as the Rev. W.-was addressing the boys, and sought to impress upon them the idea that each one of them was capable of accomplishing some great or good act. To illustrate his proposition he related the story of Jack, the youth who killed the giant on the bean stalk, and made Jack out quite a hero, evidently deeply interesting his youthful hearers. The interest, however, was dashed when the minister remarked that the only drawback to the story was that it was not true. He then asked : "Boys, do you believe the story?" one accord the lads out "No, sir!" The minister then said he would illustrate his idea with another story-from the Bible this time-and related, with all the embellishments of detail, the remarkable account of how the youth David slew the giant Goliath with a sling, and thereby assisted in vanquishing a hostile army. The boys were again deeply interested and listened patiently through the recital. When he had concluded it the minister again inquired : Now, boys, do you believe that story ?' With one accord the lads again shouted 'No, sir! no, sir!' The apparent discomfiture of the reverend did not detract a bit from the amusement with which the incident was received by the older persons present. Although he quickly and neatly escaped from his embarrassment, we concluded that when he wants to "illustrate" any more to the boys, the Rev. Mr. W. will not connect the marvellous in fact and fiction so closely together .- Cumberland (Md.) News, Aug. 20th.
